A+ Federal Credit Union Announces New Chief Financial Officer

Austin, TX – A+ Federal Credit Union (A+FCU), $2 billion in assets, announced David Cic will be joining the credit union as the Chief Financial Officer.

“We are excited to have David join our A+FCU team as we continue to evolve our organization to positively impact the needs of our membership,” Eric R. Kase, President/CEO said. “He brings with him a wealth of knowledge and experience that will serve A+FCU extremely well.”

Cic has over 20 years of experience in the financial industry and comes to A+FCU from Westerra Credit Union of Denver, Colorado, where he was the Vice President of Finance. In that role, he oversaw the Finance and Accounting teams and managed the credit union’s investment strategies and securities portfolio.

“I am excited to join A+FCU at a time when it’s thriving and in such a solid financial position. I look forward to working with the Leadership team and staff to continue to help A+FCU grow,” Cic said. “Beyond impressive business practices, a true differentiator for me is the deep commitment A+FCU has to serving the community and ensuring members have the resources needed to succeed financially. This was a key factor in my decision to join A+FCU.”

Cic holds a Master of Business Administration with Distinction from Cornell University and a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Colorado State University.
